POLICY DOCUMENT FOR CODE OF ETHICS FOR RESEARCH

Introduction:

It is important that research activity in its broadest sense is conducted within the College with the highest standard of quality and integrity. This Code of Ethics for Research, sets out the principles of conduct guiding the institution, the Research Supervisor, Research Scholar and the other stake holders with regard to research of all kinds, in all disciplines within the College.

J.J.College of Arts and Science (Autonomous) is proud to record that the Institution will never compromise on the quality of Education imparted and at the same time the Quality of Research Activity within the institution.

Definition of the Policy:

In order to create an ethical awareness among the community of Researchers the code of Ethics for Research is formulated. For the purpose of this Code, the term 'Research' refers to the creation / pursuit of novel approaches by using the already existing knowledge in a new, creative way using new concepts, methodologies and foci of understanding.

Research Activity in its practical dimension involves the Research Supervisor, Doctoral Committee Members, the Research Scholar and other relevant stakeholders.

Implementation of the Policy:

The Implementation of the Research Ethics Policy of the College is coordinated by the "Research Committee". The functions of the Committee are to oversee the research activity within the institution at all levels. The Research committee meets periodically to assess the status of research activities within the institution and shall also meet at a short notice when the need arises.

Composition of the Research Committee;

- 07 to 09 Members appointed by the Principal covering all the fields of Research within the College
- Out of whom, a person may be designated as the "Convener" by the Principal

Concluding Remarks:

Supporting Researchers in their scholarly pursuit is one of the best practices of the institution. However, the Code of Ethics for Research may change from time to time according to the societal need and the final implementation of the of the code of Ethics rests with the Research Committee, Management and the Principal.
