

J.J. College of Arts and Science (Autonomous), Pudukkottai

Department of English

22.07.2026

The English Literary Association of J.J. College of Arts and Science (Autonomous), Pudukkottai, organized an Intra-Departmental Workshop on "English for Employability" at 10:30 a.m on 22 July 2026 in the Conference Hall. The workshop was conducted with the objective of enhancing students' communication skills and equipping them with the essential language skills required for career success.

The programme commenced with Ms. S. Selvi, Head of the Department of English, welcoming the gathering. She highlighted the importance of English proficiency in today's competitive job market and introduced the resource person, Ms. A. Mercy from Emote Academy, and her team to the audience. The resource person delivered an engaging and interactive session on effective communication, interview skills, résumé writing, workplace etiquette, and confidence-building. Through practical activities and real-life examples, she inspired the students to improve their language proficiency and interpersonal skills to enhance their employability.

The workshop was organized by Mr. R. Sivakumar and Dr. R. Komalavalli under the guidance of Ms. S. Selvi, Head of the Department of English. The session witnessed enthusiastic participation from the students of the English Department. At the end of the programme, Dr. R. Komalavalli proposed the vote of thanks, expressing sincere gratitude to the Management, the Principal, Ms. A. Mercy of Emote Academy, the faculty members, and the students for making the workshop a grand success. The programme concluded successfully with positive feedback from the participants, who found the workshop highly informative, interactive, and beneficial for their future careers.